

Mental Health Care Through Hawaii Medicaid (Med-QUEST)

Hawaii's Medicaid program is called Med-QUEST. If you have Med-QUEST, you get your health care through one of five health plans. You were placed in one of these plans when you signed up for Med-QUEST. You can switch plans if you want to. This guide explains what mental health care each plan covers and how to get it. "Mental health care" is also called "behavioral health care," and both terms mean the same thing.

What Mental Health Care is Covered

No matter which of the 5 plans you have, you can get the following services:

- Talking to a counselor. You can meet 1-on-1, with your family, or in a group with a licensed therapist.
- Seeing a psychiatrist. A doctor who treats mental health can check on you and manage your medicine.
- Help in a crisis. You can get immediate help if you are in danger or you feel like things are too much to handle.
- Help for drug or alcohol use. You can get counseling and treatment if you are struggling with substance use.
- Video and phone appointments. You may find this option easier than in-person appointments.
- Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment (EPSDT). If you are under 21, you can get mental health checkups and treatment, including special therapy for autism, at no cost.

Community Care Services (CCS)

This is a higher level of support for adults (21 or older) with a serious, long-term mental illness. You cannot sign yourself up for CCS. Ask your doctor, therapist, or health plan to refer you. A doctor working with Med-QUEST will decide if you qualify.

CCS includes:

- A case manager who checks in with you and helps you plan.
- Day programs with group therapy and skill-building.
- Extra support if you are at risk of going to the hospital.
- Short-term or long-term housing with care, if you need it.
- Help finding stable housing if you are at risk of losing your home.

How to Get Care

- 1 Call your plan. The phone number is listed on the next page. Ask what mental health providers are near you.
- 2 Ask if you need a referral. Many visits do not need one, so you can often book directly with a provider.
- 3 Ask about video or phone visits. This is often the fastest way to be seen, especially outside business hours.
- 4 If you are under 21, ask about EPSDT. If you have a serious mental illness, ask about CCS.
- 5 If you are having trouble getting care, call the ombudsman. This is a free service that helps you understand your rights and file a complaint: 808-746-3324 or 1-888-488-7988.

This is called Hawaii CARES. It is a suicide and crisis lifeline. It is free and available 24/7. Help is available in many languages.

Your 5 Health Plan Choices

Call your plan's phone number to ask about mental health providers near you.

AlohaCare

What's special: You can talk to a mental health provider at any time, even nights and weekends, through Telehealth Connect by using your phone, tablet, or computer. A local team in your neighborhood can also help connect you to a therapist and other support, like help with housing.

How to start: Call AlohaCare, or open Telehealth Connect directly. You usually do not need a referral from your doctor to see an outpatient therapist.
